1 Killed, 3 Hurt In Area Accidents

Man Dies At Grade Crossing

Two Injured In Mansfield

One person was killed and three were injured in holiday traffic accidents in the Mansfield area.

Charles Kinnell jr., 27, of Wakeman, R. D. 2, was killed instantly at 11:45 p. m. Wednesday when his car was struck by a westbound B. and O. passenger train south of New London.

Russell Stokes, 34, also of Wakeman, R. D. 2, riding in the same car, was reported in critical condition from head injuries today in New London hospital.

State highway patrolmen, who investigated the accident, said they believe Kinnell was the driver of the car. Patrolmen said the view at the crossing is partially obscructed by a curve. The accident occurred at the Seven Hills road grade crossing.

WAR VETERAN

The victim was a Pacific area war veteran and is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kinnell sr., and a brother, Kenneth, all at home. Services will be held at 2 p. m. Friday at the Clarksfield Methodist church with Rev. Donald Hart, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in the Clarksfield cemetery. Arrangements are in charge of the Fitch funeral home in New London.

Injured in a city traffic mishap last night when three cars collided at West Fourth street and Rowland avenue were George E. Comer, 21, and Donald Shaffer, 19, of Mansfield, R. D. 2. Comer suffered abrasions of both legs and Shaffer a broken nose. Both youths were treated at General hospital and released.

Police said the young men were injured when Comer's car, traveling east on West Fourth street, struck a car driven south on Rowland avenue by Elmer Fox, 26 Hoffman avenue. The accident occurred at 10:15 p. m.

Officers said Fox's car glanced off Comer's car and collided with an auto driven by Clifford Bumpus, 215 Rowland avenue, who had stopped on the south side of Rowland avenue, heading north.

U. N. Debate Bogs Down

PARIS,—(UP)—United Nations debate on Palestine bogged down today and the probability grew that no formula for final settlement could muster the support of a majority of the general assembly.

The 58-nation political committee wrangled almost three hours this morning on how to proceed with eight conflicting proposals for handling the Palestine problem. The session produced only two developments of note.

The United States stuck to the fight against Britain's proposal for outright endorsement of the Bernadotte plan for a Palestine settlement. Syria submitted a foredoomed proposal for abolition of the Jewish state in Palestine and for setting up a single Arab-ruled state.

The committee did nothing about any of the proposals. Over Soviet objections it decided it needed a working paper explaining the various resolutions before it could proceed with the debate.

Police Nail 5 Smugglers

NEW YORK—(AP)—The arrest of five self-confessed "workers for Palestine" and the small arsenal of weapons they were trying to move out of the city spurred police today to search for a group attempting to ship arms to Israel.

The five youths were caught yesterday while loading a truck with crates containing machine guns, rifles, pistols and ammunition concealed in old clothing. They denied knowledge of what was in the cases.

"We were working for Palestine," was their only explanation, according to police. Source of the weapons was still unknown.

Father, 2 Children Perish

(By Associated Press)

Two accidental shootings, a fire and a plane crash led the list of violent deaths in Ohio over the Thanksgiving holiday.

Six persons died in traffic accidents over the state, two while en route to spend the holiday with their families. Over the nation, 108 were reported killed in traffic.

Ralph Seymour, 42, died with his two children, Dean 7, and Gloria Jean, 5, in their flaming home near Mt. Sterling. Police said kerosene exploded when Seymour tried to start a fire in a coal stove.

A plane crash took the life of Lee Cochran, 27-year-old student pilot, when a light, single-seat plane struck a pole and burst into flames. Cochran's wife, Adelle, witnessed the accident from a Dexter City trailer camp where the couple lived.

George W. Rednour, 22, died in a Dayton hospital after being shot while on duty as a guard at the Monsanto Chemical company atomic energy plant at Miamisburg. A Monsanto spokesman said Rednour was shot when another guard, Harry E. Clark, examined a pistol.

Mrs. Mary Catherine Furay, 24, of Xenia, was killed by a shotgun blast while hunting on the farm of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Baird, near Waynesville.

Traffic deaths included:

Otis R. Shinkle, 45, of Cedarville, killed when his motorcycle struck an automobile, plunged into a ditch and caught fire on U. S. Route 68, south of Springfield.

Dent Saylot, 19, a truck driver for the Athens, O., Messenger, who died when his truck overturned on State Route 160 while he delivered papers. Saylot lived in New Marshfield.

Sister Havana Amos, 42, deaconess of the Bethany English Lutheran church, was killed in an auto collision in Cleveland. She was driving to Beach City, O., to spend the holiday with her mother, Mrs. Mary Jane Amos.

George W. Young, 36, returning from Chicago to spend Thanksgiving at his Springfield home, was fatally injured when his car ran off U. S. Route 68, near West Liberty.

At Youngstown Lloyd R. Wilson, 62, of Columbiana was killed and his son, Harold, 26, injured critically in a collision of their automobile and a truck.

Charles Kinnel jr., 27, killed near New London by a train.

Showers Dampen City

The weather did an about-face today after Mansfield yesterday enjoyed one of the mildest Thanksgiving days in recent years.

Encouraged by a bright sun, the mercury climbed to 48 degrees yesterday and dropped only to 40 this morning.

Light rain started falling about 8 a. m.. and the sun played hide-and-seek with the clouds until noon.

The outlook, said the weatherman, is for cloudy and mild weather with occasional rain tonight. Saturday will be cloudy and somewhat colder.

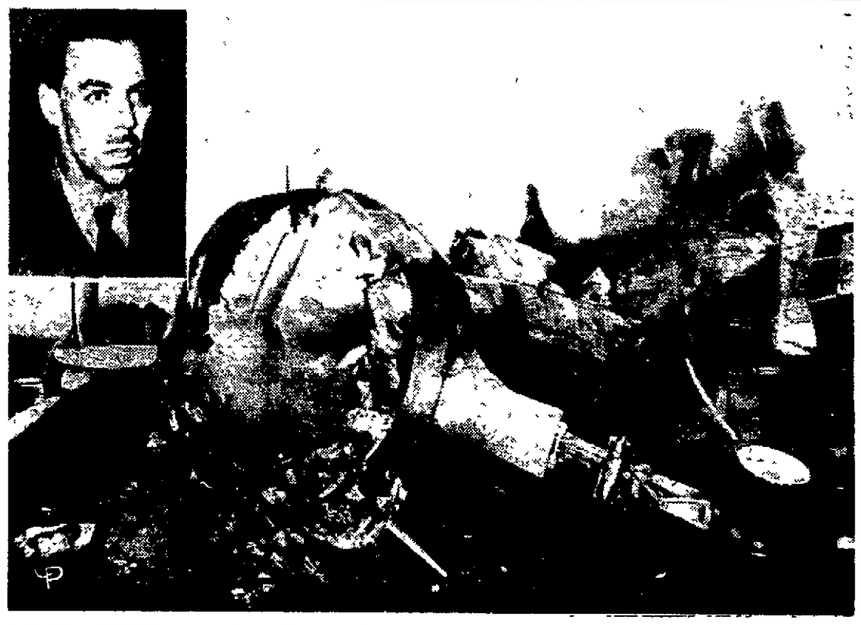
Forecaster Milton Davis, in Cleveland, said today was the 31st consecutive day in which the temperatures were at the normal or above-normal mark.

The weather bureau's five-day outlook follows:

Temperatures will average three to four degrees above normal. Warmer Monday and colder Wednesday. Rain late Sunday and possibly Tuesday. Total amount of rainfall about one inch. No clearing is in sight for tomorrow, but the possibility of rain is slight.

Italy to Join Pact

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Diplomatic sources said today Italy probably will be invited to join the projected north Atlantic security pact. They said nothing in the peace treaty with the former enemy nation prohibits its inclusion in such a security arrangement.



AIRLINER BURNS, ALL ABOARD SAVED—Quick action by Capt. Evan Lewis (inset) is credited with saving the lives of 23 persons, including his crew of five and four children, when his TWA Constellation airliner (shown below) caught fire after landing at Los Angeles airport. Lewis brought the airliner to a stop, rushed through the cabin and assisted all aboard to safety through a rear escape door. He was the last to leave. The plane was destroyed.

Dairy Price Drop Noted

Record Slash For This Season

(By United Press)

Prices on all dairy products except eggs have dropped markedly during the last two months, a survey of more than 20 cities showed today.

The survey showed that from Sept. 26 to Nov. 24, the average price on milk has decreased 3/10ths of a cent per quart, butter 6.3 cents a pound, margarine 3.3 cents a pound, and American cheese 3.1 cents a pound.

The average price of eggs in the cities surveyed increased 4.3 cents a dozen during the same period, however.

Here is a table of comparisons:

	Milk	Butter	Eggs
Sept. 26	19.8	75 8	70
Nov. 24 ...	19 5	69 5	74.3
		Margarine	Cheese
Sept. 26		40.5	55.9
Nov. 24		37.2	52.8

The Agriculture department reported this week that the drop in dairy prices from September to October was the sharpest on record for this time of year when prices on these foods usually increase.

Milk prices are falling so rapidly in Cleveland that the Agriculture department scheduled a meeting for Dec. 7 to consider placing a floor under the market.

Most trade sources said they expect the downward trend to continue for a little while and then prices will level off for some months before rising again slightly. They said a slight decrease in egg prices could be expected about the beginning of next year.

Guards Foil Escape

CHICAGO — (AP) — One prisoner was killed and eight others surrendered after the nine criminals sawed their way out of the Cook county jail last night and were trapped in the jail yard. Two jail guards thwarted the daring attempt of the nine prisoners, many of them ex-convicts, to climb over the 22-foot wall.

INSPECT HUGE PLANE

FORT WORTH, Tex. — (UP) — Eighth air force officials today inspected the worlds most powerful propeller-driven plane, the B-36-B, a 21,000-horsepower bomber driven by six pusher-type engines.

Police Hunt Little Man

Youth on Date Loses Watch, $10 to Bandit

Police today sought a bandit of short stature who held a Mansfield youth and his girl friend at gun point early today and robbed the youth of his watch and $10.

Victim of the robbery, Ralph Stull, 622 Marquis avenue, told police he and his girl friend were seated in his car in front of her Auburn avenue home when a man, approximately five feet four inches tall, opened the door, pulled a gun and robbed him.

Stull said the hold-up occurred at approximately 1:30 a. m. He said the bandit wore a white handkerchief, mask-fashion, over his face.

Also reported early today was the theft of a pump gun, valued at $100, from the auto of Addison Keator, Shiloh. Keator told sheriff's deputies that his car was locked and parked at the steel mill restaurant. Entrance to the car was gained by breaking out a window.

Dave Schneller, 234 Cline avenue, reported to sheriff's deputies Wednesday night that $150 worth of scaffolding was stolen from construction jobs at Home road and West Fourth street and on Garfield place. Schneller said the material stolen was eight and 10 foot planking, six to 14 feet long.

Boy, 12, Shot In Abdomen

Injured While Hunting Rabbits

Twelve-year-old Richard Richardson was seriously wounded shortly before noon today in a hunting accident near his home on the Flemings Falls road, northeast of Mansfield.

Shot in the abdomen with a 12-gauge shotgun by his brother, Paul, 14, the youth was in a critical condition this afternoon at General hospital. Surgeons worked for several hours removing the shot pellets.

Deputy sheriffs said the accident occurred in a field across from the boys home. The injured youth was taken to the hospital in the Wappner ambulance.

Deputies said the older boy told them Richard ran in front of him as he fired at a rabbit. Paul said he had warned his brother to remain behind him, but the younger boy apparently became excited at seeing the rabbit.

It was the first hunting accident injury of the season in Richland county.

Mayor Takes to Air To Check On Bills

WILMINGTON —(AP)— Mayor Roger C. Stephen took to the air this week to check on a bill received from the state of Ohio Aviation for "airmarking" the city. The airmarking consisted of painting the name of the city, direction to the nearest airport and other data on the roof of a building. Mayor Stephen went up in a commercial plane, saw that the work had been done and ordered the bill for $85 paid.

C. of C. Puts 12 on Board

Twelve men have been elected to serve on the board of directors of the Mansfield Chamber of Commerce. Their terms are to run two years.

Result of the voting was announced today. The ballots were counted Wednesday.

Elected to the board were A. L. Allen, W. A Brandenburg, E. H. Brown, H G. Brunner, John B. Conard, Dean W. Dickerson, Paul M. Eliot, C . S. Fernyak, L. F. Hartman, J. A. Herbert, W. R. Tappan and C. L. VanDerau.

The election committee was composed of Dean A. Eckert, Orlo L. Smith and O C. McCormick.

Eleven others were elected last year to serve two-year terms on the board.

It's Open Season On Liars

Contestants Polish Up Biggest Fibs

WASHINGTON — (UP) — This is open season on international liars. The big fib contest ends New Year's eve and the winner gets a rubber medal. Here are some of the finalists!

Merle L. Zeller of Phoenix, Ariz., claims this to be a true lie:

"In the Newton county, Indiana corn husking contest, I was entered against some very stiff competition from different corn states. I would have won this contest only I had to wait at the end of the row to let all the corn I had in the air fall in the wagon—a high wind was blowing. I lost the contest by a nubbin."

Teofilio P. Estacion, of Manila, the Philippines, wrote that he was fascinated by a story which won the 1946 liars contest—one about a sweating fish. T. P. E. said "Pffft!" He went out into the vase expanse of the Pacific, west of Mindanao. On the 14th day he and his gang engaged in a tug of war with "the fightingest fish known to man." After about six hours, the boys succeeded in hauling it over the side. And doggone! Quote: "It not only was sweatin, but had B. O."

Paul Walton Ledridge, Lexington, Ky., has a little dandy. He said that after Pearl Harbor he was attached to a ship that had to match charges with the Nips. His boat ran out of ammunition and the cooks came up with a hot one. They took up battle stations on the stern and started throwing spuds at the Japs as the waves of planes came over. And to correct their aim, they ran in an orange every third shot for a tracer.

Michael A. Ahern of Dorchester, Mass., has a lot of nerve. So he says, anyhow. It was the night of the first Louis-Wolcott fight. Mr. A., who told his wife he was going out after a paper, went to a tavern to watch the performance on television. Halfway through the fight a small row started in the gin mill and our Mr. A. started giving with the rights and lefts.

"Both Joes — Louis and Wolcott — stopped right there on the screen. They watched me for 10 minutes. I met the champ later — personal —and he said he thought I had the best right he'd ever seen."

Lay-offs Termed Seasonal

Some Plants Hiring Workers

Spokesmen for three Mansfield industrial plants today explained that furloughing of approximately 450 employes during the past week was due to seasonal fluctuations in production.

The lay-offs are expected to be temporary, the officials said.

The Mansfield Tire and Rubber company issued the following statement: "Approximately 175 employes were on furlough today in a seasonal production curb."

A spokesman for the firm explained that sales of tires always drop off in winter, and his company has cut production to correspond with the demand. November and December are always slack times in the tire manufacturing industry, he continued.

An official of the Dominion Electric corporation said his company has laid off 175 workers during the past week. He explained that the lay-offs were due to a seasonal drop in the demand for electrical products. He pointed out the cut-down is normal at this time of year since production is high in the fall in anticipation of the goods expected to flow over retail counters during the Christmas season. The slack season hits the manufacturer as retail sales begin their pre-Christmas peak, he said.

CALLED TEMPORARY

The Dominion official said the lay-offs are expected to be temporary, and he hoped that employes will be called back as new orders come in after Christmas.

The Dominion Electric corporation normally employs between 850 and 900 people.

The Martin Steel Products company began to lay off some of its employes before fire swept part of the plant 10 days ago. A spokesman for the company said seasonal fluctuations usually cause a cutback in the personnel from 200 to 100 during November, December, and January.

The Martin plant has restored production to the pre-fire figure. Operations were stopped until new power lines were installed to replace those burned out. An 80-foot section of the 30-foot-wide section of the main building is being rebuilt because the original section was badly damaged by the blaze.

Officials of the Tappan Stove company, the Humphryes Manufacturing company, the Westinghouse Electric corporation, and the Ideal Electric Manufacturing company said their plants were not laying off any employes, and no lay-offs were anticipated.

The Barnes Manufacturing company is hiring workers, an official of the firm stated.

The seasonal lay-offs are offset to some extent by additional help put on by retail establishments during the Christmas rush. C. W. Handley, manager of the Ohio State Employment office, estimated approximately 500 extra employes are needed in stores and the post office to handle the rush.

Army Hangs 14 Germans

MUNICH, Germany — (AP) — Fourteen German war criminals were hanged today at Landsberg prison.

The executions brought to 87 the number of men executed in groups of from nine to 15 on seven consecutive Fridays for the slaying of concentration camp inmates and American prisoners of war.

An eleventh hour stay of execution was granted Richard Schulze, 50, assistant to S.S. General Ernst Kaltenbrunner. Kaltenbrunner was hanged after the original war crimes trial at Nuernberg.

King Holds Session

LONDON, — (UP) — Despite his leg trouble, King George held a Privy council session at Buckingham palace today. The palace issued no further word on the King's condition. A circulatory ailment has obliged him to cancel public engagements.

Two Roosters Beat Monkeys In Wild Race

PHILADELPHIA — (UP) — The monkeys had more fun than the people who watched them through a plate glass window of a Central-City pet shop last night.

A crowd gathered when word got around that two monkeys and a baboon were making the most of their break from their cages. The three revelers pulled out boxes of fish food and bird seed from the shelves, went to work on five bales of paper strips and vainly chased two roosters around the shop.

After about an hour of this sort of thing the monkeys went to sleep, the roosters returned to their perch and the crowd dispersed.

Youth Tries To Give Up In Forgery

Fails to Find FBI, Runs Away

The story of a 19-year-old accused forger who came from Indiana to Mansfield to give himself up, changed his mind, only to be caught accidentally by police in Illinois, was unfolded by city police today.

The youth was Albert McConnell, of Bloomington, Ind., who pleaded guilty in municipal court today to a charge of forging and cashing a $1,000 check. He was held to the grand jury under $1,500 bond.

Circumstances leading up to his arrest were outlined by detectives. On Nov. 12 he purchased a car at the Rex Bell used car lot, Fourth and Mulberry streets, paying for it with a $1,000 check on a Bloomington, Ind. bank. He represented himself as Herman McConnell, his uncle, had signed his uncle's name.

He took the car, with Ohio dealers plates and drove to Bloomington. Conscience stricken, two days lated he returned the 240 miles to Mansfield, intending to give himself up to the FBI, detectives said.

LOOKS FOR FBI

He parked his car on West Fourth street, opposite the post office, and went into the postofice looking for the FBI. He was informed that the FBI was not located in the post office.

The car, purchased with a forged check was less than 100 feet from the Rex Bell lot.

For some reason, McConnell told detectives, he changed his mind and started back to Bloomington. On the way there, he picked up two soldiers, who got him to agree to drive them to their homes in Metropolis, Ill., a distance of 410 miles.

In Metropolis, McConnell loaned the car to the two soldiers. He picked up a girl in a restaurant, took her home, and was arrested a short time later on an intoxication charge.

Meanwhile, Illinois state police found the car which had been abandoned by the soldiers. They checked Mansfield to determine whether it was stolen.

Police then learned from Bell that the car was paid for with a forged check. Local authorities asked that the car and McConnell be held.

On Wednesday, Sheriff Frank E. Robinson and Detectives F. Bruce Friday traveled to Metropolis to pick up McConnell. One of Bell's salesmen recovered the car, which was damaged by McConnell in an accident.

Little Space, But Family Enjoys Meal

AKRON—(AP)—The tedium of a 16-day scarlet fever quarantine was broken yesterday for nine residents of a house trailer with a sumptuous Thanksgiving dinner supplied by the Salvation Army.

Until yesterday it looked as if the one man, two women and six children would go without a Thanksgiving dinner. However, before the day ended they had feasted on fried chicken, potatoes and gravy, dumplings, celery and pineapple salad.

Added to the holiday cheer was the announcement that the quarantine would be lifted next Monday.

Coastal Walkout End Near

Longshoremen Vote Tomorrow

(Compiled From Wire Services)

NEW YORK — Merchant ships and passenger liners made preparations today to sail from eastern seaports as soon as longshoremen ratify a new agreement that will settle the 17-day-old strike.

Federal mediators, the New York Shippers association and International Longshoremen's association officials predicted that the membership will accept the new terms.

Rank-and-file members will vote on the new contract terms Saturday.

If the terms are accepted, longshoremen probably will return to work Monday to end the paralyzing strike that has crippled Atlantic seaboard shipping from Halifax, N. S., to Hampton Roads, Virginia.

Meanwhile, in San Francisco an agreement on terms for a settlement of the 86-day walkout of the CIO Longshoremen's Union has been reached with a membership vote also expected Saturday.

Highlights of the west coast pact are a 15-cent hourly wage increase, a three-year contract, improved grievance machinery, improved vacation and working conditions.

The east coast strike, termed the most costly in maritime history, has tied up more than $300,000,000 in Marshall Plan aid to Europe and has caused tons of food stuff to rot on the piers.

WILL LIFT EMBARGOES

Railroads are expected to lift their embargoes to east coast ports within two days after the stevedores return to work. Several industries dependent on shipping are expected to recall furloughed employes over the week end.

A main feature of the suggested contract provides a pay raise of 13 cents an hour for day workers and 19½ cents for night, holiday and Sunday workers, retroactive to Aug. 21, when the old contract expired.

The contract provides one-week paid vacations for dockers working 800 to 1349 hours a year, and two-week paid vacations for those working 1350 hours or more.

About 400 ships were tied up in harbors from Portland, Me., to Norfolk, Va., by the east coast strike. The Pacific coast work stoppage had idled about 265 ships along the entire seaboard.

Ratification of the east coast settlement will permit strike-bound ships to sail as soon as the longshoremen unload their cargoes and load them with new shipments.

On the west coast, however, strikes being waged by the CIO Marine Cooks and Stewards, and Independent Firemen, and the CIO Radio Operators must be settled before ships can sail even though longshoremen unload them and provide them with new cargoes.

It was believed, however, that the longshoremen agreement would be the key to settling the other three strikes.

Two other labor peace settlements were announced yesterday. The AFL Airline Pilots association settled the longest walkout in airline history against National Airlines and the AFL Federal Labor Union reached agreement with the Midvale Steel company of Philadelphia. The latter dispute had caused the longest major strike in Philadelphia since the war.

Mme. Chiang To Visit U. S.

WASHINGTON —(INS)— The state department said today that Mme. Chiang Kai-Shek, wife of the Chinese generalissimo, plans soon to visit the United States.

Presumably her purpose is to plead for American aid for the threatened nationalist government. Officials declined to give any further details on the projected visit.

In response to inquiries, Michael J. McDermott, state department spokesman, said: "We have been informed that Mme. Chiang plans to visit the United States but we have no details yet as to how or when she will arrive."

Will Try Again

BRUSSELS —(UP)— Former Premier Paul-Henri Spaak again has accepted the mandate to form a new government, it was announced today. Former Finance Minister Gaston Eyskens, previously named premier-designate, informed Prince Rent Charles that he was unable to organize a new cabinet.

Three Pro Races Can End Sunday

Second Half Rally Wins For Browns

(Compiled From Wire Services)

The Cleveland Browns, Buffalo Bills and Philadelphia Eagles all have an opportunity Sunday to win a 1948 pro football championship.

Cleveland, kingpin of the All America conference the past two years, can clinch the circuit's western half flag and the Bills can grab the eastern division title.

The Browns, who downed the Los Angeles Dons, 31-14, in a Thanksgiving day game yesterday, take on the runnerup 49ers in San Francisco boasting a one game lead with two games to go. A 49er triumph will tie up the race.

Buffalo, 39-35 victor over the Chicago Rockets in the league's other holiday game, tackles the runnerup Yankees in New York The Yanks are tied with the Baltimore Colts for second place, a game off the Bills' pace A Buffalo triumph and a Baltimore defeat will move the Bills into the playoffs

Philadelphia, idle yesterday, can sew up its second straight National league eastern division crown by taming the invading Pittsburgh Steelers while the Chicago Bears turn back the runnerup Washington Redskins The Eagles, winners of seven straight games, lead the 'Skins by a game and a half with three to go

BEARS DROP BACK

The Bears, in the running for the National's western sector honors, dropped a half game off the pace yesterday as the defending Champion Chicago Cardinals topped the Detroit Lions, 28-14, to break their tie with the Bears for the lead The Cards are idle Sunday and a Bear victory over Washington will tie the race again.

The Browns were in San Francisco today preparing to put what they hope will be the 'clincher" on the western division title of the AAC. The 'Frisco club, with 11 victories and one defeat, dropped their only contest to the Browns—a 14-7 decision in Cleveland two weeks ago

In the event of a San Francisco victory, the playoff game will be held in Cleveland.

Some 60,031 fans watched what they thought was going to be an upset yesterday as the Dons held the Brownies scoreless in the first period, while the Los Angeles club went ahead, 7-0, on a short plunge by Walt Clay.

Cleveland tied the count early in the second period on a 49-yard pass from Otto Graham to Dante Lavelli, who was playing with a badly bruised eye The touchdown drive took five plays and covered 71 yards

DOBBS SPARKS DONS

Glen Dobbs, who sparked the Dons attack passed the ball down to the 2-yard line from where Clay tallied again for the Dons' second and last touchdown to make the score 14-7

With only one minute and 35 seconds remaining in the first half, Bill Boedeker returned the kickoff to the Browns 31-yard line and it took just four plays for the Brownies to tie the count again

Graham directed the ball down to the nine yard line via the aerial route from where he flipped a short pass to Edgar Jones in the end zone

The second half was a different story, however

After Graham passed the pig skin down to the 13 yard stripe the cagey quarterback carried it over himself three plays later to make the score 21-14

Lou Groza added the next three points with a field goal from the 28-yard line in the third period

An intercepted pass by Cliff Lewis at the Los Angeles 30 put the Browns in position for the final touchdown

Tony Adamle, defensive full back, and the whole defensive team were credited with this one HARDER HIT—Pat Harder, Chicago Cards' back, is stopped for no gain after taking a hand-off from Charley Trippi (62) in third quarter of Detroit Lions-Cards game at Detroit, Mich. Dick Stovall (66) stops the play Kelly Mote (88) of Lions comes in at right Other players are unidentified.

Nation's Top College Cagers Tangle With Champion Lakers

CHICAGO—(INS)—The 1948 College All-Stars four of them actually under six feet, oppose the Minneapolis Lakers tonight in the ninth number of one of basketball's most honored annual customs

A full house at Chicago stadium will view the renewal of the annual event which pits the previous year's college standouts against the present defending champion of the National Basketball league

Minneapolis won the NBL title last season, although the Lakers since have transferred their allegiance to the Basketball Association of America

Of definite interest in connection with this game is the fact that onlookers may witness another milestone in the departure of the "goon" from basketball affairs.

If the tall boy is assigned to a man, then that man stays away from the basket, drawing the "goon" out with him and reducing his rebounding powers

If the tall fellow is stationed beneath the basket, then the attackers pot their shots from afar, hindered by one less defensive man

The "shorties" on tonight's all-star squad are Murray Wier of Iowa (5-10), Lionel Malamed of CCNY (5-10), Bib Cook of Wisconsin (5-11) and Gene Berce of Marquette (5-11) They re as talented a quartet as one might find anywhere

But All-Star Coach Dutch Lonborg, of Northwestern, has some other classy persons to call on There are Jack Burmaster of Illinois ,Kenny Rollins of Kentucky, Jack Carter of East Texas, Don Ray of Western Kentucky, Whitey Kachan of De Paul, Alex Hannum of Southern California, Walt Budko of Columbia, Odis Spears of Western Kentucky, Arnold Ferrin of Utah, Adalph Schayes of N Y U , and Ed Mikan of De Paul

The latter may be assigned to cover his famed older brother, large Jarge Mikan, who now leads the Lakers from his center position Mikan, at six-foot-nine, is tall enough, but he is no "goon" George does most everything well with Adamle carrying the ball around right end for the six points Neither team scored in the last canto

The Browns led the Dons in first downs, 18 to 12, and in total offense, 395 to 248

Graham completed 16 of 32 passes, while Dobbs also piled up a 50-50 average with 11 completions in 22 attempts

IN LAST 16 MONTHS...
MORE MEN VOLUNTEERED FOR THE ARMY
than chose jobs in any other business

HERE'S THE RECORD

Between July 1, 1947, and October 21, 1948, a total of 214,616 forward-looking young American men signed original enlistment contracts with the U. S. Army. This number is greater than the number of men who obtained jobs with any other American business during the same period.

During this sixteen-month period the total of all enlistments in your U. S. Army amounted to 341,959. Of this group, 93,473 veterans returned to the Army—men who had discovered that the U. S Army offered them more than civilian life. And in the same period 33,870 men re-enlisted to continue their satisfying, productive Army careers.

Thousands upon thousands of intelligent young men are finding worth-while, remunerative and satisfying careers in the Army. And every day more men are taking advantage of the unlimited opportunities the Army offers—opportunities that can't be duplicated in civilian life.

For instance, in the month of August, 1948, alone, 44,204 signed enlistment contracts of three years or more with the Army.

Today fifty-seven per cent of the volunteers in the Army have had previous military service—enjoyable, happy service which they want to continue.

This impressive record is solid, conclusive proof that the Regular U. S. Army offers the kind of career opportunity that the young men of our nation demand—an opportunity not only to learn but to serve at the same time.

WHY MEN RE-ENLIST

Ranking high among the reasons thousands of men give for selecting or continuing careers in the Army are the chances for rapid advancement in their chosen fields. Today the Army is expanding fast. This expansion means unlimited opportunity for promotion of skilled, highly trained men.

Advancement is important; however, there are many other good, sound reasons why so many intelligent men choose to stay in the Army. Here are but a few:

☆ On the day a man enlists the Army starts a retirement-benefit "stake" for him which continues to grow as long as he stays. At the end of six years he has established an equity which compares with a retirement benefit of $6,250.

☆ Army technical schools offer the most advanced and specialized training in interesting, practical fields—give technical "know-how" you'd have to pay for in civilian life.

HERE'S WHAT THE NEW ARMY OFFERS YOU

Before you choose any career, compare it with a future in the Regular U. S. Army. Never before has the Army offered such tremendous opportunities for a real career to the alert, ambitious young men of America.

On the one hand you have the chance to serve your country while learning a new trade or skill—to further your education in important fields. And on the other hand there are the financial advantages, the job security, the retirement benefits, the chances for rapid promotion, the free medical and dental care that are yours in the Army.

A career in the U. S. Army is an opportunity that just can't be beat. And it's a lifetime opportunity! Get the full details now at your nearest U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Office.

British Soften Palestine Plan

PARIS—(AP)—Britain said last night she had revised her Palestine proposals in an effort to meet American objections.

The text of Britain's new proposals was not available immediately. However, a spokesman said Britain had accepted the U. S. recommendation that Jews and Arabs be allowed to work out a mutually acceptable settlement on boundaries.

Britain originally proposed that the United Nations assembly approve the Bernadotte plan which recommended that Israel give the Negev desert to the Arabs in return for western Galilee.

3—In Memoriam

IN MEMORY of our dear daughter and mother, Marthena Urschel, who passed away 4 years ago today, Nov. 26th, 1944.
Our loved one from us is gone.
A voice we love is still.
A place is empty in our house
That never can be filled.
God in His wisdom can recall
The love that she has given.
And though the body slumbers here.
The soul is safe in Heaven
Mr and Mrs. Charles Gimbel.

Federal Grand Juries Cooperate In Red Investigations

Five Major Cities See U. S. Action

Probes Continue To Widen Scope

WASHINGTON—(U.P.)—At least five grand juries are cooperating in the nation's most extensive judicial investigation of communist activities, a survey showed today.

Justice department records showed that federal juries are looking into Red operations in five major cities — New York, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Denver and Philadelphia.

The New York grand jury is investigating subversive elements within the U. S. communist party. The other four juries are concerned with individual government employes who failed to reveal their communist affiliations when applying for jobs.

The New York jury already has indicted 12 top communists for advocating the violent overthrow of the federal government. And "fraudulent statement" true bills have been returned by the juries in Denver, Philadelphia and San Francisco.

The inquiries got underway last summer and the juries are still in session. In at least two cities—Denver and Los Angeles—more than a dozen witnesses were jailed for refusing to answer the jurors' questions.

These jailings aroused some criticism, and there have been published reports that they were made on orders of the Justice department in Washington.

Department officials here denied this. They said the Justice department traditionally leaves grand jury investigations in the hands of its U. S. district attorneys in the field. They said they intend to continue this policy.

"If a witness refuses to answer an essential grand jury question, the U. S. attorney usually brings him before a federal judge for possible contempt action," one Justice department official explained. "It is up to the judge whether or not the witness should be jailed."

The current investigations — apart from the one in New York—grew out of the May, 1947, test case conviction of Carl Aldo Marzani. Marzani, a former State department official, was accused of concealing communist connections in applying for federal employment. He was sentenced to one-to-three years in prison, but he has appealed to the Supreme court.

Arrest Bares Car Thefts

Arrest of a 17-year-old Willard, R. D. 2, youth on a warrant charging he had carried concealed weapons today led sheriff's deputies to possible solving of three car thefts and the burglary of the Hannafus general store in Olivesburg.

Sheriff Frank E. Robinson said today the youth was being questioned about three car thefts, two in Shelby and one in Olivesburg and the burglary during the last two weeks.

After the youth was arrested yesterday, Sheriff Robinson learned from the sheriff of Morehead, Ky., a 23-year-old Shelby man was held there on a stolen car charge.

Robinson said the two had been running around together and the FBI was called since the 23-year-old is being investigated in the transporting one of the stolen cars across a state line—Ohio into Kentucky. He also is being investigated in the taking a 14-year-old Shelby girl across the state line.

There was no determination made at noon as to who had stolen the cars and committed the Olivesburg burglary.

The 17-year-old, meanwhile, is held on the warrant, issued by the Willard mayor's court. Five guns were taken from the general store.

Officer Helps Bring Bodies Home

Re-burial Ahead Of Schedule

The return of America's war dead is about two and one-half years ahead of the original schedule, according to Lt. Cmdr. J. A. Smith, inspector-instructor of the Mansfield Naval Training Center.

"The job should be finished about June of next year" he stated.

Smith recently completed 10 days of duty on burial escort service. Working out of the reception depot in Columbus, he escorted three bodies home within the confines of the Ninth Naval district.

"Every one of the returned service dead must be accompanied by an officer or one of equal rank," said Smith, "The flag covering the casket, ammunition, and other belongings of the fallen must be turned over to the next-of-kin."

Smith said caskets can't be opened except by court order.

"The escort's job is finished when the body is turned over to relatives and the required papers are signed," Smith stated, "but the escort will stay for burial service if requested by the family."

At Columbus, war dead of all the services are received for Ohio and surrounding states. There, appropriate escorts according to the service and the rank of the individual service dead are assigned for the final shipment home.

"I think it is wonderful that the government should provide this last service to the relatives of America's dead heroes, for the final resting place of these men is a very important matter for their families," the officer said.

Chief Gives Tips for Safe Driving During Cold Weather

With the traffic accident death rate due to climb 24 to 53 per cent higher than the summer rate in northern sections of the country, Police Chief Jesse J. Schwab today listed driving rules for the winter months.

"If these rules are carefully considered," the chief said, "it will prevent a lot of motorists from becoming involved in accidents during the hazardous winter weather and road conditions ahead."

Chief Schwab said that scientific tests and research by the National Safety council are the basis for these rules, and added, "Only sincere thinking on these rules will save motorists from being involved in serious accidents and traffic tie-up."

The rules as listed by the chief are:

1. When starting out on ice or snow, get the "feel" of the road surface. Test your braking and acceleration when clear of other cars.

2. Reduce speed when road surfaces are snowy or icy. Remember that it takes 3 to 12 times more distance to stop on snow or ice than on dry pavement.

3. Keep snow and ice off the outside of the windshield as well as fog and frost inside. Be sure your defroster and wipers are working. Watch out for pedestrians.

4. Never warm up your car in a closed garage. Carbon monoxide poisoning is dangerous. Also check floor boards and exhaust systems for leaks. Examine heater for possible defects.

5. When treacherous snow or ice prevail on the streets, use steel tire chains. They reduce braking distance for cars and trucks from 40 to 70 per cent, and provide "go" traction often needed.

6. If possible, have tires with good treads. They provide better stopping ability on both dry and wet pavement, but do not depend on even new rubber treads on packed snow or ice. Tests also show that "rubber tire chains," while nice and quiet, actually skid further than bare tires on ice. So, "don't skid yourself."

TAX RECEIPTS DECLINE

COLUMBUS —(U.P.)— A report from the state treasurer's office today showed that sales tax revenue for the week ending Nov. 13 declined $341,753.56 in comparison to the corresponding week last year.

Tax Relief Move Seen

WASHINGTON—(INS)— Tax relief in the form of reduced "nuisance" excise levies loomed as a possibility today.

Rep. Forand (D) R. I., and Eberharter (D) Pa., both members of the Tax-Writing House Ways and Means committee, revealed they will launch a drive in the next Congress to cut these taxes which still are at their wartime peak.

The two administration congressmen said they will support a limited excess profits tax to raise enough revenue to offset the proposed cut in excise levies.

Forand and Eberharter declared that the excise taxes should be slashed on such products and services as cosmetics, telegraph messages, long distance telephone calls, jewelry, electric light bulbs, luggage and transportation.

SHIP STRIKES ROCK

TOLEDO —(INS)— The 180-foot U.S. Coast Guard cutter Tupelo was docked for repairs at Toledo base today after it sustained a six-foot gash in its plates when it hit a submerged rock off West Sister Island in Lake Erie.

'Suspended' Pomeroy Mayor Readies Self For Round 2

POMEROY, O. —(U.P.)— Delmar (Kid) Canaday, suspended mayor of this Ohio river city, was back at his desk today, ready for another round with Gov. Thomas J. Herbert.

The governor earlier this week suspended Canaday as mayor for 30-days pending a hearing Dec. 4 on charges filed against the one time West Virginia boxing champion.

Canaday had been away from his office since shortly after the governor issued the suspension order. He went to Cleveland to confer with Mayor Thomas A. Burke and to Akron to talk with Mayor Harry V. Slusser, president of the Ohio League of Municipalities.

"I went to the head of the class to get their opinions and I am very much encouraged," Canaday said. "He (the governor) has no grounds to suspend me."

He said he intended to keep on serving as mayor despite the suspension order.

Canaday said he would go to Columbus to defend himself at the Dec. 4 hearing.

"I'm going to explain a few things to the governor that he doesn't know anything about," he said.

The former welter-weight boxing champion disclosed, too, that he hopes someday to sit at the governor's desk—after serving "a term or two in Congress."

Canaday was the unsuccessful Democratic candidate for Congress in his district in the Nov. 2 election.

Old Values On Tax List In Crawford

Reappraisal Use Set For 1949

BUCYRUS—Crawford county's real estate owners received a "break" today when the county board of revision rejected a plan of County Auditor Fredercik Klein to use the new increased property valuations for the 1948 tax duplicate.

Auditor Klein previously had announced the new valuations would be used for the 1948 tax duplicate beginning with taxes payable Dec. 20.

When the board of revision, which is composed of Klein, County Treasurer Mae L. Kloepfer and Lawrence Heinlen, chairman of the county commissioners, met this week, Mrs. Kloepfer offered a motion that the 1947 valuations be retained because the reappraisal being conducted by Klein was not completed. Her motion was seconded promptly by Heinlen and the motion carried.

Under the reappraisal, valuations have been raised an average of 20 per cent in Bucyrus, Galion and Crestline while farms and township properties were increased an average of 10 per cent.

The board of revision's action will result in taxpayers paying on their old valuations during 1949. The new values will be used on the 1949 duplicate.

The appraisal was started more than a year ago by Deputy Appraisers Harry Barrett and Alpha M. Winter, both of Bucyrus. Industrial property was appraised by a professional appraisal firm.

Courthouse observers pointed out that while property in Bucyrus, Galion and Crestline was appraised individually, rural and village properties were given a blanket 10 per cent increase.

At present, Appraisers Barrett and Winter are making a check of farm and village property.

Amvets Prepare For Battle Over Reds at National Meet

CLEVELAND —(UP)— American Veterans Committee leaders today sought convention approval "to clean out and keep out members of the Communist party from our ranks."

The 25-member national planning committee which governs the AVC between annual conventions prepared a resolution to purge communists from the group when the four-day convention opened yesterday.

Opposition is expected when the 1,500 delegates representing nearly 50,000 members in every state get the measure for debate, but National Chairman Chat Paterson was confident of overwhelming approval.

"Anyone who continues to regard the AVC as a communist organization after this convention will be readily recognizable as the type who also regarded Franklin D. Roosevelt and Wendell Willkie as communists," Paterson said.

The resolution declares "the totalitarian principles and destructive practices of the American Communist party are inconsistent with the democratic principles and constructive program of AVC, inimical to its welfare, and that Communist party members are ineligible for membership in AVC."

"We instruct our incoming national leadership," the resolution adds, "to continue using all means appropriate under the constitution to clean out and keep out members of the Communist party from our ranks."

Before passing the resolution, the committee voted down a proposed constitutional amendment requiring non-communist affidavits from members.

A showdown was due also today between the AVC leaders and critical minority groups over the seating of delegates from 14 New York chapters.

One of the New York units, the Ernie Pyle chapter, had its charter revoked by the committee. Nine others were suspended for six months and the remaining four drew indefinite suspensions.

Disciplining of the chapters resulted from a metropolitan area council meeting in New York last September where a suspended member, Richard Crohn, was seated as a delegate. Crohn was suspended by the national planning committee for violating AVC laws by appearing at a Wallace-for-president rally and lending the AVC's name to partisan political activity.

Suspension was lifted yesterday from two other New York chapters—LaGuardia chapter No. 12 in the Bronx and the CIO Retail chapter No. 55 in Manhattan. Chapter 55 was suspended through error, the national planning committee found, and Chapter 12 had cause for failure to answer a committee demand it reverse the position it took at the area council meeting.

PITTSBURGH — (AP) — Two Springfield, O., men were charged with fraud today in connection with the $12,000 purchase of five automobiles

Teitelbaum reported he made a plane trip to Springfield and was unable to cash a check given him for the cars. He said the autos were recovered and returned to Pittsburgh.

Water Bond Issues Hit By Petitions

Mt. Gilead, Edison Actions Scored

MT. GILEAD — Petitions have been filed in the Morrow county common pleas court asking that bond issues approved in both Mt. Gilead and Edison for water system improvements be declared "rejected."

The Edison bond issue for $65,000 for a water system was approved by one vote receiving 149 "for" votes to 99 "against" votes. The Mt. Gilead bond issue for $110,000 for improvements of the present water system failed originally by two votes but a recount in two of the village's three precincts gave the issue a margin of two votes.

Hearings on both petitions were assigned for hearing on Dec. 13 by Common Pleas Judge Leland Rutherford A common pleas judge from another county will be assigned by Chief Justice Carl Weygant to conduct the hearings.

Tojo Learns Of Decision

Early Hanging Seems Certain

TOKYO—(UNS)—Former Premier Hideki Tojo and six other major Japanese war criminals were informed today for the first time that Gen. Douglas MacArthur has rejected appeals to save them from death on the gallows.

The allied supreme commander's decision was announced Wednesday. But the seven doomed men, it was learned, have not been permitted to read any newspapers for the past three days.

Today's unusual activities at Sugamo, as observed by reporters standing "death watch" at the prison's gates, had aroused speculation on the possibility that Japan's foremost war criminals were being prepared to hang early tomorrow.

Tonight, however, it seemed likely that the prison activities had some connection with four other and less-ranking Japanese war criminals previously convicted and sentenced to death.

As speculation mounted, Gen. MacArthur's headquarters said it would be made known at tomorrow's 10 a. m. (7 p. m. EST, Friday) news conference whether or not the executions of the Tojo group had been carried out.

As indications mounted that the executions might be held in a few hours, Madame Katsuko Tojo, wife of the wartime premier, appealed to Gen. MacArthur to let her have the ashes of her husband.

Gifts Galore In Mansfield Stores

YESTERDAY'S News-Journal—the largest regular edition ever issued by a Mansfield newspaper—presented in its sixty pages ample evidence of the readiness of Mansfield's progressive merchants to serve the people of this trading area well during the Christmas holiday season now being entered upon, and also reflected the vast strides which local retail merchandising has made in recent years.

It comes with something of a shock to find that only 24 shopping days remain between now and Christmas, but it is pleasant to realize that this gives ample time for looking around for suitable gifts and to make selections from the most diversified and complete stocks that have been available for a number of years.

Starting next Monday, stores will be open on Monday evenings until 9 o'clock, for the convenience of those who have difficulty in getting downtown during the day, but shopping during the morning hours will be found advantageous for those who can do so.

For the children, a visit to the attractive toy departments of various stores will be an unforgettable experience for which all parents should plan to find time.

Gift selections this year will run the gamut from practical articles for personal or family use to the wide range of luxury items which will appeal to many, with Mansfield stores in readiness to meet the varied requirements of all patrons.

It is again a timely suggestion to "Shop Early" for Christmas gifts—tomorrow if possible . . . next week if more convenient . . . thus avoiding the rush of final days and the possible disappointment of finding that "just what you wanted" has been sold out.

Small Things Can Be Important

SOMETHING quite important has been accomplished by an agreement of Great Britain, the United States and Canada to standardize the threads of nuts, bolts and screws. Probably it had never occurred to most persons that a British nut will not fit on an American bolt, but every mechanic and machinist who has worked with imported machines knows it.

Probably never has so small a matter caused so much trouble—the difference is only five degrees in the angle of the threads. This has meant that when machinery or anything else put together with bolts or screws was exported from one country to the other, a supply of spare parts from the country where it was made also had to be shipped to ensure maintenance.

During the recent war the disadvantages were very evident, restricting the interchange of parts for weapons, vehicles and other paraphernalia of war.

It will take some time to put the agreement into effect, but in the end, American, British and Canadian machines will appear with interchangeable nuts and bolts. Most Americans will not notice the change, for the American thread has been specified as the standard.

How Are School Children to Know?

WITH Mansfield high school untroubled by fraternities or sororities such as are under discussion in some other cities, the subject seems unrelated to local problems except as it touches on the matter of obligation to respect state laws.

It appears that an Ohio statute is designed to ban Greek letter societies at the high school level, and that this law has been ignored in some cities.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer makes the editorial comment: "As long as Ohio has a statute outlawing high school fraternities it ought to be enforced. School authorities, of all people, can't afford to be in the position of seeming to wink at the law."

Which is a quite proper attitude, but what if duly elected or appointed law enforcement officials present the example of ignoring some laws—those against commercialized gambling, for instance—why shouldn't other people feel free to pick and choose between laws they like and those they dislike?

Suppose high school pupils are told there is a law against juvenile fraternities. "What the heck," they may well say, "there's a law against gambling, but who pays any attention to it!"

That's a hard thing to make children—and some adults—understand, and it might be well, sometime when Mayor Vaughn is in public-speaking mood, for him to explain this matter at a meeting of school children who are rather puzzled about how decisions are made as to what laws are to be enforced and which ones are to be ignored. Otherwise some of them might be attracted to the gambling racket, at which some folks seem to acquire considerable wealth without ever having been known to do a stroke of honest work.

Only 'High-Grade' Morons Approved

THE BEST DRIVER is said to be a high-grade moron. This verdict comes from the research director of the Northwestern University traffic institute, James Stannard Baker.

People of superior intelligence are said not to keep their minds on their driving, and those with unusually low IQ's aren't up to what the road demands. Most people have noticed morons on the road, but it had not occurred to them that these are the best drivers.

A suggestion is now offered that "the post office be taken out of politics"—but that's what the civil service rules have said right along.

To assure correct spelling, children are advised to let their parents look over their letters to Santa Claus before mailing them.

Claude Callan notices: "The old world gives a fellow a pretty good education, but it surely does charge him a lot for it."

Raymond Moley's Analysis

Will Call for Younger GOP Leadership

REPUBLICAN comment on the election and its aftermath is none too favorable to past leadership. But Dewey, the candidate, and Taft, foremost constructive leader in Congress, are subject to somewhat different criticism.

Dewey is castigated because he failed to defend in detail and affirmatively the record of the 80th Congress. This criticism, it should be noted, comes from some of the older Republican statesmen and from some members of Congress.

Taft is criticized because, it is asserted, he largely made the record of the 80th Congress, and that, of course, was Truman's main campaign issue. Part of this criticism also comes from members of Congress.

It is worthy of note that the Taft critics and the Dewey critics are of quite different schools of political thought. In the course of the months ahead, when Republican policy is being made in Congress, this conflict will be a continuing issue.

It can be taken for granted that when the Senate convenes the more extreme group consisting of Senators Morse, Aiken and Tobey, who claim the characterization of "liberal" will be in mild rebellion against the Senate leaders of the 80th Congress, with the exception of Vandenberg, who as a leader occupies a unique place.

This group of dissenters can hardly be expected to recruit new followers. They will probably remain as they are — a small group of mavericks.

* * *

"Middle-of-the-Roaders."

THERE are a considerable number of middle-of-the-roader senators who will have great influence in shaping policy. Foremost in this group is Senator Baldwin of Connecticut.

Baldwin's position has a certain logic and security which must be noted in any effort to appraise future Republican leadership. He came to prominence ten years ago when he was elected governor of Connecticut. He lost in 1940, but returned to serve two more terms as governor and to be elected senator in 1946.

In 1940 he was a strong Willkie supporter and clearly belonged to the non-isolationist wing of the party. His political wisdom was far greater than that of Willkie, and he quietly assumed a firm grip on his party in Connecticut. He got along with labor while holding in line the more conservative elements in his state.

He has personality, force and intelligence. In the 80th Congress his voting was fairly regular, but it will be remembered that at one time he led a mild revolt against the Taft-Wherry leadership. In this election he helped his party carry the state for Dewey, although the governorship and half the congressional seats went Democratic.

Baldwin's public comment on the election bears study, largely because he will be a factor to be reckoned with in the new Senate.

In a post-election speech he frankly admitted that the Republican party and the 80th Congress failed to meet issues for which the public was "earnestly seeking solutions, such as housing and high prices."

Congress, Baldwin says, did many good things but failed to get them across to the voters.

Basically, Baldwin says, it should be recognized that the world and the United States are in the midst of a social evolution: "The Republican party has a great opportunity to give real meaning, sound leadership and true direction to that evolution." In doing so, it "must appeal to recruits from the younger generation."

Those senators who share the Baldwin views will probably seek, under the titular leadership of Vandenberg, to shape policy in the new Congress and to build for better days to come.

Scrutinizing Lobbyists

By THOMAS L. STOKES

WASHINGTON—It is no secret that big money talks in politics, sometimes loudly for awhile, then for a time not so loudly.

It began to raise its voice effectively again in the last Congress. Its agents, known colloquially as lobbyists, swarmed into this city like camp-followers in the wake of the Republican army that moved in to take control of the 80th Congress after the party's victory in the 1946 congressional elections.

It looked like easy pickings, and it was. Lobbyists were able to knock on many doors and get a hearing for big interests they represented because of the handsome contributions those big interests had made to the Republican triumph.

They did fairly well, all in all, in a preliminary sapping operation that weakened some New Deal reforms and laid the dynamite for others they hoped to topple down with a big bang in the next Congress which, at the time, most everybody thought would be Republican, too.

It has turned out differently, even with everything that big money threw into the pot. But this is only a reason for renewed activity by big money, for it sees a real threat now. The President has a Congress much more sympathetic with his program than the last, or than the 79th Democratic Congress before that. Lobbyists thrive on a tough one. They can draw more heavily on the home treasury.

* * *

Keep Tab On Lobbyists.

EVERY so often it's a good idea to explore the influence of big money on politics and see how it's done. For the sake of a healthy democracy it's salutary to take the system apart and see how it ticks.

Consequently, what is needed is an old-fashioned investigation of lobbyists and lobbying, and the interests back of them, such as we have not had around here for some time now. Lots of people are suggesting this, most recently, for example, the executive council of the International Association of Machinists.

It adopted a resolution at a meeting here recommending a broad investigation by a joint congressional committee into all sorts of special interest lobbies which, the council estimated, had spent $12,000,000 and probably more to influence the last Congress.

The last big lobby investigation we had around here was that conducted by former Senator Hugo Black (D., Ala.), now Supreme Court justice, into the utility lobby against the public utility holding company bill in 1935.

The utilities, incidentally, would stand another careful scrutiny now, for they were very effective in the 80th Congress. Before that, in 1931, there was the Caraway lobby investigating committee that devoted special attention to tariff lobbyists but went into other fields, too.

It would be very helpful to the President's program to keep such an investigation going continuously while that program was being presented to Congress.

That was the technique of the now famous Truman committee, which kept its eye constantly on the defense program during the war to ferret out inefficiencies, special favors and corruption. Like that inquiry, the projected investigation would be a mirror held up constantly before Congress and the public.

Wanted: School Teachers

It is estimated that more than a million additional teachers will be needed in the elementary schools during the next 10 years. Yet teachers' colleges are expected to turn out only about one-fifth that number.

The alarming thing is that there seems to be no hope of material improvement until classroom crowding is eliminated, salaries adjusted still further to meet outside competition and other inducements offered young men and women to enter the teaching profession.

It will take time and a lot of money to bring these improvements, especially the new buildings required to reduce overcrowding.

The sooner the public recognizes the nature and the implications of the problem, the sooner will the children of the country receive the quality of education to which they are entitled.—Washington Star.

Marshall Will Hold Post 'Indefinitely'

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—No. 1 upshot of the hour-long conference between President Truman and Secretary of State Marshall was that Marshall agreed to remain in the cabinet for an "indefinite period" after Jan. 20.

Marshall tactfully reminded his chief he hadn't had a vacation in years, except for a few days that he and Mrs. Marshall spent together in Honolulu following his mission to China in 1947. He said he needed a rest badly.

However, the man who petoed Truman's proposed Vinson mission to Moscow and who has thwarted Truman's ideas on Palestine said that he considered it his duty to stay on the job "as long as you need me."

He added that he hoped this would not mean serving the full four years of Truman's term of office. The President quickly responded that this wouldn't be necessary.

"But I can't spare you now," Truman said, in effect.

"With the international situation as it is," the President added, in effect, "I can't take a chance on putting someone else in your place until we begin to see daylight in Europe. Otherwise, I would not impose on you."

Ku Klux Klan.

DOWN in Macon, Georgia, a group of American Legionnaires and church leaders are trying to head off a huge Ku Klux Klan demonstration scheduled for Dec. 10.

The Klan has engaged the city auditorium for that date and Grand Dragon Green, at secret meetings in Atlanta, has boasted that the Macon cross-burning would be one of the biggest in Klan history—bigger than the gathering on Stone Mountain.

However, many Macon citizens, opposing the Klan, have introduced an ordinance before the city council forbidding men to hide their faces behind masks when meeting publicly. This would force the Klan either to abandon their karnival in the auditorium, or to meet unmasked.

The big question is: Will the city council be pressured by Klan influences not to pass the ordinance? A lot of people will be watching the decision.

Unity Dinner.

REVEREND Dan Poling, editor of the Christian Herald and father of one of the four chaplains who gave up their life-belts on a sinking war transport so GI's might live, has just written an editorial about the importance of national unity.

"Why not," asks Dr. Poling, who has done more for unity than most men I know, "hold an all-American dinner honoring the President of the United States on the night of his inauguration? Let's make it a unanimous vote for all the world to see, hear, and understand, a vote for world security and peace.

"Perhaps no other people of the world would or could stage such a demonstration, but an Americans-all dinner on this next inauguration night would be a master stroke to help bind free peoples and all who would be free into a dynamic unity.

"I suggest the following for a national committee on arrangements with the only living former president as chairman and including all living former presidential candidates and the widows of our former presidents: Herbert Hoover, chairman; Herbert H. Lehman, treasurer; Governor Thomas E. Dewey, John W. Davis, James M. Cox, Alfred M. Landon, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Mrs. Calvin D. Coolidge, and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson.

"But recognizing the fact that an idea such as this can die before it is fully born, why not you and I make it come alive in our own homes and organizations? Here is a time for a man to practice what he preaches and having talked it over with my associates at Christian Herald magazine, we shall have our Americans-all dinner on Jan. 20, 1949. Representing in our organization every faith, every color and every racial strain, we qualify for the occasion! We shall come together and honor our President.

"And we shall do something more. In the spirit of the occasion we shall bring a gift for the 230 million neglected and suffering children of the world. To date the United States has miserably failed to answer the United Nations' appeal for these children. We secured only $6 million of our $60 million quota, while Canada with one-eighteenth of our national income raised $10 million.

"On January 20th next our menu will be simple, but we shall go clear out when in honoring President Truman we make our appeal for the Children's Fund of the United Nations."

Note—Nothing could be a more effective sock-in-the-jaw for Moscow than newsreels of American business, labor leaders, farmers and just ordinary folks sitting down—united—behind the President of the United States.

AIR FORCE strategists have estimated that in case we do clash with Russia, Britain's bomber bases would be nonusable within twenty days. Russian buzz bombs and bombers would smash them up. . . . The U. S. Navy is growing more and more alarmed over Russia's expanding submarine fleet. In case of war, Navy strategists fear the Navy could not keep the sea lanes open to American shipping. . . . After the war, Russia took over Germany's submarine sheds, plus latest U-boat inventions; now has 300 submarines—six times as many as Hitler had when he declared war. . . . This is why the U. S. Navy is specializing on light airplane carriers and destroyers to watch for enemy U-boats in World War III—if it comes.

What of Big Strikes?

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — One of the biggest questions before the new Congress, when it starts to change the labor law, is this:

What to do, if anything, to prevent big strikes that could paralyze the country and endanger the national health and welfare?

The three big labor organizations—AFL, CIO and coal miners—want the Taft-Hartley law wiped out.

But none of them has said directly it wants any kind of law that could prevent the big strikes. The AFL has indicated it might. Briefly, this is the picture now:

There was nothing in the old Wagner Labor Act, passed in 1935 and liked by labor, which would prevent a strike.

In fact, for 15 years until 1947, a federal law prevented interference with a strike by such means as an injunction, or flat court order, against striking.

Then the Republican Congress last year replaced the Wagner Act with the Taft-Hartley Act.

And under that act a big strike which might cause a national emergency could be prevented by injunction for about 90 days. After such a delay, though, a union was free to strike.

But the injunction is one of the things which organized labor has hated most of all through American history. Labor feels it should be free to strike when it wants to.

Now the new Democratic Congress, to carry out its campaign promise to labor, probably will abolish the Taft-Hartley Act. And, probably, it will restore the old Wagner Act.

But—will the Wagner Act be restored just as it was? Or will some few things—like slowing up or preventing a strike—be inserted?

* * *

THE THREE big labor groups in the past week, in one way or another, have come out for killing the Taft-Hartley law. They've said they wanted that ever since it was passed more than a year ago.

John L. Lewis, head of the coal miners, and Philip Murray, head of the CIO, had a few things to say in interviews published by the U. S. News and World Report, a weekly news magazine.

Lewis said he not only wants the Taft-Hartley Act wiped out but wants nothing in its place.

"I think," he said, "if we want to preserve free enterprise we must preserve a free labor movement."

But that, of course, raises the question of how free can free enterprise be in a nation like this where all the parts depend upon all the other parts.

For example: Should the railroad workers or coal miners be permitted to go on a strike which, if drawn out, might shut down industry or starve the country and drive it into chaos?

If that happened and riots and revolt started, the result might be an overthrow of the government or drastic curbs on labor and management. Then a lot of other people might lose the free enterprise which Lewis cherishes.

Murray wants the Taft-Hartley law knocked out and the Wagner Act put in its place. But when asked if he thinks there should be a law to prevent big strikes, by injunction or otherwise, he said:

Labor and management both have enough common sense and wisdom to settle their differences without compulsion because such compulsion would lead to totalitarianism.

At the close of its convention in Cincinnati last Monday, the AFL passed a resolution which said "The public welfare as well as that of management and labor is paramount . . . The economic health, safety and welfare of the nation must not again be placed in jeopardy by the irresponsible action of anyone."

That might indicate the AFL would go along on some machinery to stop big strikes. But it didn't say so directly.

Some labor leaders have hinted it might be a good idea to have machinery which, although not stopping big strikes altogether, might delay them.

Those Winter Apples

By CALVIN A. BYERS

AFTER apple picking time is long past, and the trees are bare, there comes a time every fall when it is pleasant to glean the dropped apples from beneath the wide overhanging limbs before bitter cold and snow shall destroy them.

There are only a few under each tree, but these are the ones that were too near the top for the pickers to reach from precarious ladders, and so they are apt to be large and well colored and mellow. If, as in my neighbor's well-kept orchard, there is mulch beneath the tree so that the fall does not bruise them too much, the apples are the best-tasting that can be had anywhere.

The other day, when the West was snowbound, and storm was reported coming this way at a rapid rate, the four boys and I went apple hunting with burlap bags, instead of for rabbits and pheasants, with guns on our shoulders. (We had the owner's permission.)

The apple trees are on a steep hillside, and when we left our car at the top of the hill near the road, and the two younger boys, 9 and 11, with pails in hand, stopped to tussle, the pails went rolling and clattering down the hill and the two boys right after them, rolling over and over until they were disheveled and red-faced and breathing hard.

"It'll make 'em dizzy — it did me last year," remarked the 13-year-old, sagely. "My, doesn't it smell good here, tho?"

The bare woods roared in the warm south wind. The fragrance of frosted leaves and mould and over-ripe apples mingled into a rare autumnal perfume, so mellow and delicious as to be almost tangible.

I let them frolic first — experience has taught me the wisdom of that course — while I scouted around to find the most likely place for each worker. Then we went to work in earnest.

Stooping to find scattered fruits half buried in straw and long grass becomes tedious business. I reminded the youngest that they had not so far to stoop as I, and let the two teams take turns lugging the apples uphill to the car. The available space was soon filled, and we drove home, munching. Next day, when the wind had brought chilly snowsqualls, one boy remarked, "Those apples look better to me today than they did yesterday."

I believe there is no better safeguard to a family's health than a goodly supply of winter apples.

Horoscope

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Saturday, Nov. 27

ACCORDING to a hold-over of adverse planetary aspects, it might be as well to secure week-end diversion from serious considerations, since a carefree holiday might prove soothing to excessive stimulated feelings, emotions and impulses. Any effort at adjusting stubborn, strange and devastating situations might prove futile, and the interim might be spent in currying favor with elders or superiors whose approbation is urgent.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose brithday it is are urged to take time to give keen and calm analysis to underlying circumstances, in which tempestuous and wild impulses, emotions and destructive attitudes have brought about difficult situations. Self-restraint, deep research into the baffling circumstances or disruptions could gain by the friendly understanding or advice of those in influential places. Personal relations are likewise in jeopardy by a rash show of "temperament."

A child born on this day may be temperamental and difficult, with its feelings and emotions tempestuous and exaggerated. Early training is recommended.

Flying In and Out of Mansfield

Pastor, 89, Wife, 81, Take Plane Trip

Mansfield's aviation fans can be eight or 80, it seems.

Oldest passengers ever to leave Municipal airport were Rev. and Mrs. W. J. Cady, 89 and 81, respectively, who flew to Kansas City to spend the holiday with their daughter.

Youngest licensed pilot in the city is David Harnly, son of Dr. and Mrs. M. D. Harnly, who soloed for the first time this week. He received flight instruction from Ray E. Owens and made his first solo flight on his 16th birthday.

The CAA regulations prohibit issuing pilot's licenses to students under 16, so young Harnly knows he is one of the nation's most youthful pilots. His parents are aviation enthusiasts, too.

Tom Ansel, station manager of TWA, reports that effective Dec. 1, Flight 457, from Mansfield to Chicago, will change departure time from 11:40 to 11:25 throughout the winter.

Capt. M. A. Wales reports that 15 more recruits were sworn into the National Guard Unit. There are still six vacancies to be filled. The recruiting campaign is still in force and anyone desiring information should call 4209-6 or contact Capt. Wales or Capt. Ash at Hangar No. 7, Municipal airport.

Maj. D. C. McGee reports two informal inspections held at the National Guard Hangar. The first group was from the 55th Wing, Wing headquarters, Columbus with Major Sharp and Lt. Foley in charge. The second group was from the 121st Flight Group Squadron, Dayton, with Lt. Col. S. W. Simon, Maj. Mead and Maj. Hertz in charge.

GETS NEW PLANE

Maj. D. C. McGee and Capt. W. O. Ash flew to Cleveland Tuesday to pick up a T11 for the National Guard Unit.

David Robinson and Elmer Cash flew to Cleveland Municipal Airport and lunched at the Administration building.

Instructor Wilbur H. Shafer and three Commercial students, Charles Hellinger, John Hughes, and Paul Berno flew on a X-C to Ft. Wayne, Ind., Champaign, Ill., and return Sunday.

Frank T. Piacent flew on his private pilot solo X-C to Akron-Canton airport, Columbus and return.

Roland V. Briggs flew on his long commercial solo X-C to Pittsburgh, Martinsburg, W. Va., and Washington, D. C., and return. This was his first glimpse of the capital. His only regret was that he didn't have more time to look around and take pictures, he said.

L. O. Eppelheimer, representative, and H. C. Kyner, secretary-treasurer for Hickman Power and Implement company, M. A. Broillier, assistant general manager of Earthmaster corporation, Burbank, Calif., were flown to Jerseyville, Ill., by A. Clayton Tschantz, to attend a farm machinery demonstration at Baughman Manufacturing company. The return trip was made by moonlight. George E. Hickman made the same trip, returning the following day.

Expenses OK'd

County commissioners yesterday approved an expense account, estimated at $35, for County Treasurer Charles C. Payne to attend the annual convention of the State Association of County Treasurers in Columbus. The convention dates are Dec. 1, 2 and 3.

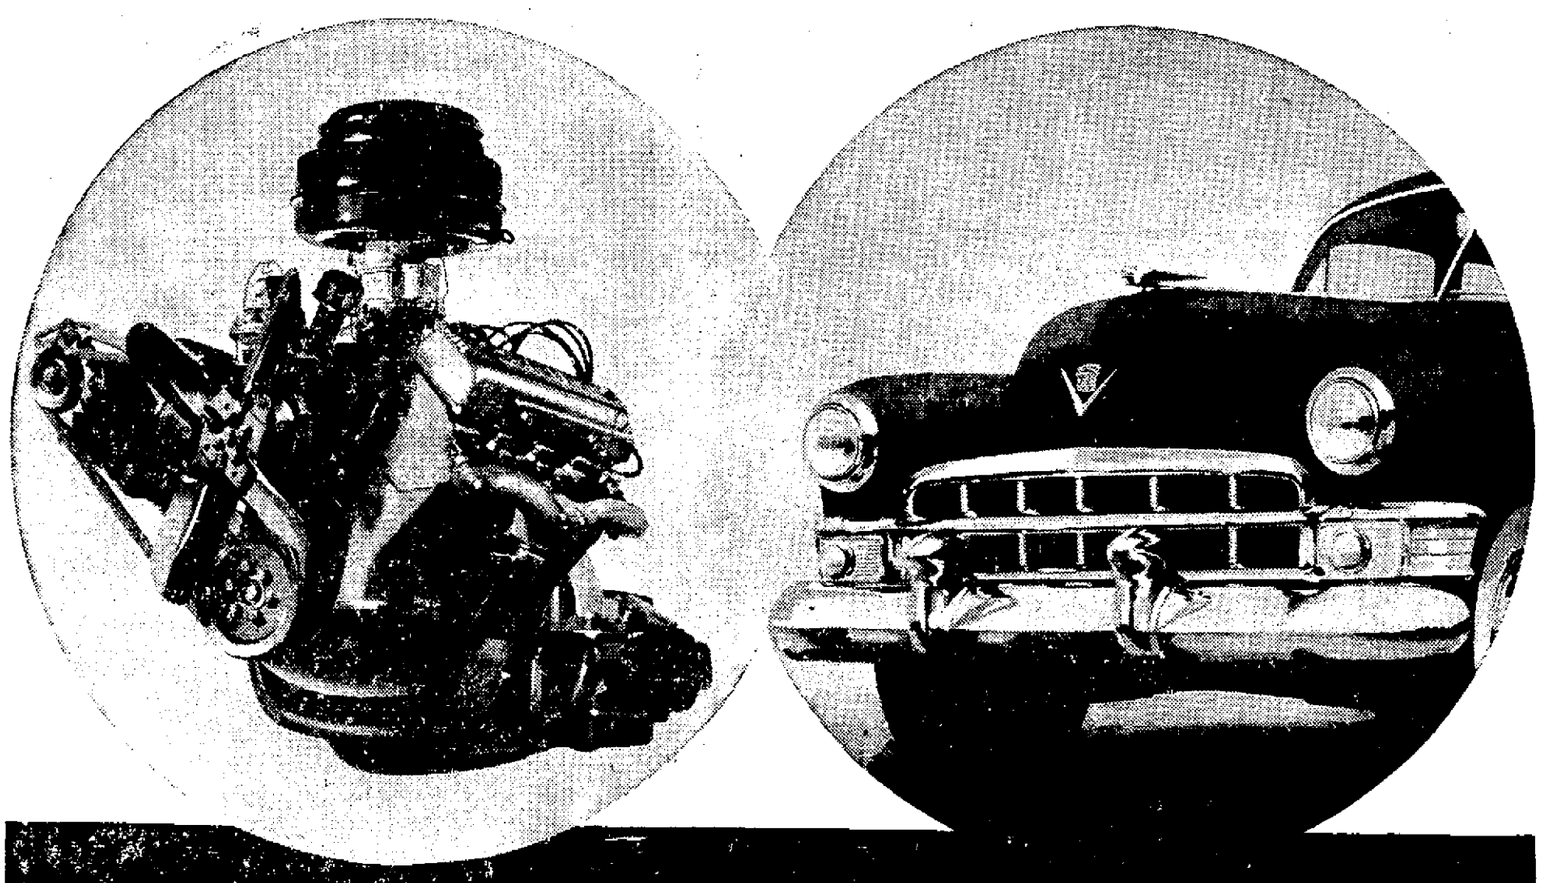
Cadillac
PRESENTS ITS CREATIVE MASTERPIECE...



...The world's newest engine—for the world's finest car!

White Sidewall Tires available at additional cost.

No Cadillac announcement has ever been more significant than the one which appears on this page. For, this year, Cadillac presents its creative masterpiece—a wholly new V-type eight-cylinder engine—which is, beyond all doubt, the highest development yet attained in automotive power plants. ★ This great power plant has been twelve years in the building—for basic development work started in 1936. It has many unusual qualities which set it apart from all other creations of its kind. It is far more alert, powerful and responsive to the throttle—yet it affords an increase in gasoline economy of approximately twenty per cent. And the manner of its performance actually challenges the imagination. It is liquid smooth; it is quick and eager beyond all experience; yet the power application is so effortless that the driver is scarcely aware of the engine's existence. The car seems almost to move by automatic propulsion. ★ Even experienced Cadillac owners must put aside all previous conceptions of performance when they drive the 1949 Cadillac. It is a revelation—from silken start to silken stop. ★ There are, of course, many other advancements in addition to the history-making engine. There is new beauty in the front ensemble; there is a newly-designed, more attractive instrument panel, with all driving controls at your finger tips; and throughout the chassis and body will be found those characteristic refinements which result from Cadillac's unceasing search for perfection. ★ But the big Cadillac story, for 1949, is performance. It is not only the world's new standard—it is beyond the world's current conception.

Corn Here Escapes Damage

Some Areas Report Loss By Spoilage

Corn picking is at its peak in Richland county this week, according to Guy L. Taylor, chairman of the County Triple-A committee.

While reports from other sections of the country where corn is the chief crop tell of millions of dollars worth of corn spoiling in the cribs and on the stalk, spoilage in Richland county is not serious, he said.

Taylor pointed out that corn is not grown as a commercial crop to any great extent in the county. It is fed to hogs and cattle here rather than shipped out as it is in corn-producing states like Indiana, Illinois and Iowa. He estimated less than 25 per cent of Richland county's corn crop was raised as a commercial crop.

Although the corn has a high moisture content because of the recent damp and foggy weather, spoilage has not been severe because the storage problem is not as acute here as it is in other areas, he said.

Most farmers have managed to erect temporary cribs from which they will feed their stock first, he added. Much corn is still in the field, and farmers are hurrying the harvest because a snowfall would cause considerable damage to corn left on the stalk by breaking it down, he said.

PICKING DELAYED

Corn picking was delayed because farmers have been waiting for a hard freeze to drive out the moisture. The expected freeze has not been forthcoming, however, and most farmers have decided to harvest their crop, anyway.

A hard freeze now would do much to dry out the corn, even that which is in the cribs providing it has proper ventilation throughout, Taylor explained.

An indication of the home consumption of Richland county corn is the fact that only five applications for corn price support have been received by the AAA office. In the large corn-producing states the bumper crop has caused prices to slide as low as 60 cents a bushel, reports say, despite the government loan rate of $1.42 a bushel for those areas.

Here the price has hovered close to the $1 50 government support price. New corn in dry enough condition for storing is bringing between $1 35 and $1.50 a bushel.

Reports say farmers in the corn belt who are caught with moist and rotting corn are either selling it at low prices or feeding it to hogs and cattle immediately. Experts predict this will have a noticeable effect on meat prices as farmers will take their animals to market sooner than they would have if they had extended the fattening period over a longer period.

Jim Moran, Screwball Who Makes It Pay, At It Again

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS

WASHINGTON —(UP)— The man in the red beard, baggy pants and gravy-spotted brown sweater is out to make history. He said.

And, as usual, Jim Moran, the Hollywood screwball among press agents, intends to be commercial about it.

Jim, who's wearing the chin lettuce because he lost a presidential election bet, plans to bust in on President Truman and shake him by the hand. Then, he'll fly back to film town and re-sell the shake at five bucks a shake, three for 10 and half a dozen for $25.

(Mr. Truman of course, being willing. More about that later.)

Jim's theory is this:

"I got to thinking," he said, "that a whole flock of people have never met the president. They'd like to shake hands with him. Since that is impossible for most folks, they'd settle to shake the hand that shook the hand."

And pay for it, to boot.

So after Moran mitts the first mitt in the land, he's going to stuff his "sacred" paw in his right pants pocket and run right out to a hospital. He already has a contract for fast action to have the hand put in plaster of Paris for a safe, clean ride back west.

"When we get home," Moran said, "we're going to have a plaster breaking session and then I'll be in business."

The book of Moran is filled with the screwy doings of the screwy one.

To settle a bet between bandleader Fred Waring and Paul Douglas—and for a price—he got his front sunburned in California and then flew to Florida to have same done to his back.

He found the proverbial needle in the proverbial haystack. He sold an icebox to an Eskimo and sat on an ostrich egg in a store window until a little ostrich came pecking his way out.

But about this business of handshaking the president

Jim is perfectly willing. Natch. But Mr. Truman, who is pretty busy these days, hasn't agreed, so far as could be learned. In that case, Jim's only chance will be to bust through the secret service crowd as Mr. Truman walks across Pennsylvania avenue from his temporary home at Blair House, to his office in the White House.

That approach is not recommended.

Tragedy Hits Twice At Farm Near Wauseon

WAUSEON—(AP)—Clair Wyant, 36, a farmer, looked under a dump trailer bed which had stuck upright after a load of corn had been dumped last night.

The bed suddenly fell, crushing his head and killing him. His father, William R. Wyant, 60, ran for help and returned with Lyle Salsberry, a neighbor. They jacked the bed off the dead man's head.

A Morenci physician drove into the farm yard. Wyant told Salsberry, "I don't think my heart can take any more of this," walked around the doctor's car and fell dead against the side.

Dessert surprise in the school lunch box is a doughnut sandwich made by splitting a doughnut and filling with bright jelly, apple butter, or peanut butter.

After-Drink Trip Costly

Two "friends" who offered him a drink were actually after his money, Keith Harris, of the Avalon hotel, found early Wednesday.

Harris reported to police yesterday he was in a tavern on North Main street early Wednesday when he met two men who offered him a drink if he would go outside with them.

They went outside, Keith related, and the two knocked him down and took his billfold containing $40, he told police.

Harris said he then went to his room and went to sleep. He made the report to police when he awoke yesterday.

Police Gunfire Stops Squatters In Italy

ROME —(AP)— Eleven persons were wounded and 120 arrested during several hours of fighting yesterday between police and peasants near Ferrara in northern Italy, the Italian news agency Ansa reported. The trouble started, police said, when squatters moved in on several large estates and the owners asked they be removed.

Decapitates His Friends

Greek Guerilla Seeks Amnesty

ATHENS — (INS) — Guerrilla Stavros Paliatseas walked into the gendarmerie-post of Kalamos, a few days ago, carrying in his haversack the severed heads of two fellow-guerrillas. Under his arm he carried the automatic rifle with which he had shot them.

Paliatseas explained to the police officer by whom he was questioned, that he had read in the papers of a bill which proposed the reenactment of a law dating from the late eighties but long fallen into disuse.

The law, in its modernized form, would grant amnesty to all repentant rebels providing information "leading to the capture and/or destruction of individuals in active rebellion against the State."

Paliatseas said:

"If it is a question of good will on my part, here is the proof." Then the guerrilla opened the bloody haversack.

President's Acceptance of Hopley Resignation Is Talk of the Town

Dear Mr. W: The President's acceptance of Civil Defense planner Hopley's resignation (less than a dozen hours after your radio warning the night before) is the talk of Washington, according to Ukno, who just got off the phone. . . . What startles us is the number of people (in Govt.) who never heard of him! The FBI had no idea of his frightening plan until they happened onto his 200-page report at the Govt. Printing Office . . . AP editors and editors up and down the line said: "Walter's revelation was the sleeper of the year" (outside of the election result), and the AP story about Hopley's resignation reads like any other piece of nothing.

Women Ask Equal Bonus In City Pay

Petition Sent To Council Today

The city's 12 women employes, representing five per cent of all workers today petitioned city council for "equal consideration in any wage adjustment that may be granted."

Specifically, the women want to be granted a bonus equal to that of the male employes. A year ago, council granted a "cost of living bonus" giving the men an additional $25 a month and the women $12.50.

Council is studying the question of renewing the bonus bill for 1949 and the female employes desire they too be given a $25-a-month bonus. Such an adjustment in the bonus bill would increase the payroll by $1,800 a year.

WOULD SLICE COSTS

If council should renew the bill now in effect with the stipulation that persons earning more than $3,500 a year shall not receive the bonus, then the bonus costs will be sliced by $24,000 annually.

This will occur, because by terms of the salary increase ordinance for the city police and firemen, the minimum wages for all such employes has been raised above the $3,500 mark.

The saving thus affected will be offset, however, by the fact that police and firemens pay increases will up the city payroll by $98,300 a year.

The women employes also asked for consideration in any wage adjustment that might be granted. Several councilmen have said that they are planning to grant some sort of wage increase to city employes.

They did not reveal how much of an increase they planned to give, however. City hall observers pointed out that some sort of an increase will be granted, inasmuch as the police and firemen will be granted the substantial increases, beginning on Dec. 2, approved by the voters. The wage boosts range from 29 to 45 per cent.

Restaurant Owner Dies

Elmer P. Metcalf, 46, died unexpectedly at his home on Home road at 8 p. m. last night.

He was born in Mansfield July 5, 1902, and spent his entire life here. He operated the Rathskeller restaurant in Shiloh.

Mr. Metcalf was a member of Venus Lodge, 152, F. and A. M.

He is survived by his wife, Hazel; his father, John Metcalf; and four brothers, Willard, James Donald, Raymond, and Wayne, all of Mansfield, and a sister, Mrs. Harold Ellis of Barberton.

Rev. B. F. Hagelbarger, pastor of the First Christian church, will conduct funeral services at the Wappner funeral home at 1 p. m. Monday. Burial will be in Mansfield cemetery.

Tax Revenue Tops '47 By $177,668

State sales tax revenue for the year has climbed to $1,414,372 so for in Richland county, or $177,668 ahead of collections for a corresponding period last year.

Sales tax collections during the week ended Nov. 13 amounted to $33,411. During the corresponding week in 1947 collections totaled $32,958.

Damage Suits Are Settled

Two damage actions, asking a total of $35,000 as a result of a single traffic accident, have been settled and the actions dismissed in common pleas court.

In one of the actions—for $25,000—Mrs. Gladys McFadden, of 109 Pleasant avenue, had sued Harlan W. Taylor and his son, Harlan Eugene Taylor, a minor, of Mansfield, R. D. 6.

She asked the sum for injuries received, according to her petition, when she was struck by a car driven by the younger Taylor while she was crossing the street at West Fourth and North Walnut streets on May 26, 1945.

Her husband, Charles H. McFadden, had sued the two for $10,000 for doctor and hospital bills for employment of nursing care and loss of services, as a result of the accident. That suit was dismissed after the parties reached an agreement, the entry said.

Santa Braves Rain to Keep Airport Date With Kiddies

The rain didn't prevent Santa Claus from keeping his date with kiddies at the Mansfield airport today.

This morning when he arrived in his airplane on an emergency call from the M. O'Neil company, rain was falling at the Airport and only about 50 children and their parents braved the nasty weather to greet the jolly old gent.

Their enthusiastic welcome, however, made up for the lack of numbers and Santa was escorted, like any royal king, to the O'Neil store where scores of other children, who had been waiting since before the store opened this morning, added their noisy greeting.

He carried a bag filled with toys which were added to the big display of children's playthings in the lower floor toy department.

Santa will remain at the store from now until Christmas, taking time out each day only for a brief luncheon period. He will discuss personal problems of Christmas shopping with any Mansfield youngster who may wish to meet the jolly old fellow.

He will even listen attentively should Mom and Dad care to talk over that special request from Junior.

4-Point Buck Deer Becomes 'Citified'

COLUMBUS—(INS)—Thanksgiving celebrants in the Columbus suburb of Grandview Heights thought they might have celebrated a little too freely when they saw a four-point buck deer race through yards, disrupt traffic and disappear near a swimming pool. However, calmer heads believed hunters guns probably frightened the deer into the city.

Good Samaritan Hunter Finds Kindness Backfires

The Thanksgiving day hunting trip of William Slisher, Caldwell avenue, was only a bitter memory today. Slisher didn't even get a taste of those four rabbits and a pheasant. Besides, his shotgun is gone.

It all started when Slisher tried to be a good fellow and share his rabbits with two strangers he met in Martin's Tavern on Springmill road last night. He gave a rabbit to each of the strangers. The strangers disappeared.

Then he went back into the tavern, leaving two rabbits, the pheasant and his hunting gun in the car.

A short while later he started home. But when he started to haul out the day's kill he found it was gone. So was the $100 gun.

Sheriff's deputies said today suspicion points to the two strangers.

Boudreau Named Most Valuable Player

Corum's Column

By BILL CORUM
(INS Sports Writer)

It's a fine thing that Levi Jackson, first Negro to play football for Yale, will be captain of the team at that famous university next year.

There are times when we feel a great pride in sports because they are showing the way in these matters of common sense in this country.

We have got fed up with the word tolerance these past few years and grown somewhat skeptical of those who employ it too often and too glibly.

We like to feel, and definitely believe, that the Yale football players who honored Levi Jackson had no such thought. Jackson was one of them. They knew him for what he is. By his calibre of play and by his conduct as a player, he had earned the right to sit on that historic Yale fence in the photographer's shop with the white "Y" on his jersey. So they elected him to the job.

That is the way it was, and should have been By the same token, if there had been another player on the Yale team who has more clearly earned the captaincy, Jackson should not have had the honor. The fact that he is a Negro should have had no bearing, as I'm sure it didn't.

Men are judged for what they have done and what they are in the sports in which they participate, and on no other basis. Joe Louis is, of course, the outstanding example and he will always be a star in boxing's somewhat tawdry crown. For boxing was the first sport to take this stand and then live by it.

Jackie Robinson, Larry Doby, Roy Campanella have followed in the wake of the heavyweight champion, with Don Newcombe and others following along.

So, again, we want to congratulate the ancient institution of learning at New Haven first, and Levi Jackson second

The Cleveland Barons who climbed out of the western division cellar Wednesday will step into third place with Buffalo if they beat the weak Washington Lions in the American Hockey League's only scheduled game tonight The Pittsburgh Hornets defeated the Hershey Bears 2-1 in a rough and tumble battle at Hershey last night

Tribe Boss Rates Tops With Writers

NEW YORK—(AP)—Lou Boudreau was the most valuable player in the American league in 1948—naturally.

Most everybody agreed on that a month ago. Now it's official on the vote of the 24-man committee of the Baseball Writers association.

The writers rated the athletes from one to 10 but Ed Burns of the Chicago Tribune, the retiring president, reports 22 of them named Boudreau first. The other two first place ballots went to Joe DiMaggio, the pillar of the New York Yankees.

If the vote had been taken after the world series, the shortstop-manager of the world champion Cleveland Indians probably would have made a clean sweep. But this balloting was done before the series, in fact, before the American league pennant was decided in the final week of the season.

Boudreau made a good case for himself on the playing field.

1. He played the most shortstop of anybody in the league.

2. He led Cleveland to its first flag and series victory since 1920.

3. He hit .355, second only to Ted Williams, the champ.

4. He worked out the pickoff play that created such a stir in the series.

When things looked dark for Cleveland after Boston took over first place in late summer, Boudreau kept insisting "we'll win"

When the Indians lost their final game of the regular season and had to travel to Boston for a playoff game he said, "we're just coming into Boston a little early for the series."

It was Boudreau's first-inning home run off Denny Galehouse in the playoff game that instilled confidence in the Tribe.

Boudreau snared most of the honors during the '48 season and now he has won one of the most coveted awards for the first time

DIMAG RUNNERUP

DiMaggio, most valuable in 1939, 1941 and 1947 was one of the most important reasons for the Yanks' third place finish. His hitting and outfield play, despite a leg injury, kept New York in the race until the day before the end He batted in 156 runs most in the league, on a .320 average

On a point basis, with 14 for first, nine for second and on down to one for 10th, Boudreau received 324 to 213 for Joe DiMaggio

Ted Williams, the batting king with an unofficial 369, was third with 171 but no first place votes Next came Vern (Junior) Stephens, one of Williams' Boston Red Sox teammates Stephens, purchased from St. Louis in one of the biggest deals in history, drove home 137 runs He polled 121 points to 101 for Cleveland's 20-game winner, Bob Lemon, the only pitcher in the first five

Joe Gordon, Boudreau's partner in Cleveland's fine double play combination tied for sixth with the Yanks' Tommy Henrich, who had a great year, hitting .308 and driving in 100 runs for the first time in his major league career. Each had 63 points.

Gene Bearden, a pitching hero in Cleveland's series success, was eighth with 52 Then came Hal Newhouser of Detroit, most valuable in 1944 and 1945 He had 48 points to 39 for 10th place Eddie Joost, the shortstop sparkplug of the Philadelphia A's

The standings figures on a point basis of 14 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 1 (First place votes in parentheses)

1 Lou Boudreau Cleveland (22) 324

Ohio Picked For PGA Meet

COLUMBUS—(AP)—A purse of $40,000, largest in the event's history, was put up for grabs today as Columbus was awarded the 1950 PGA golf championship

Mayor James A Rhodes, National Amateur Athletic union president, said the seven-day race will be held at the Scioto Country club probably the last week in June The sprawling Scioto course, a par 72 layout of 7,041 yards, was host to the National Open in 1926 when Bobby Jones won his second crown, and to the Ryder Cup matches in 1931 when the American team defeated Great Britain, 9 to 3

The tournament is to be sponsored by the "Zoohigans," an organization dedicated to raising funds for improvement of the Columbus zoo. Contracts for the championship event were signed today.

Rhodes announced that the annual Columbus Invitational, a $10 000 affair, would not be held in 1949 under Zoohigan sponsorship since the group would concentrate on the 1950 classic.

Desperation Pass Wins For Shelby

By JOHN PATRICK

SHELBY—In a thrilling Hollywood finish the Shelby Blues completed a 13-yard touchdown pass with 10 seconds to play to defeat the Marion Angels, 19 to 13, in yesterday's final game of the season here.

With the Angels leading 13 to 12 the Blues made a sustained drive from the Marion 44 to the 10 yard line before losing the ball. The Angels took over with 30 seconds to go. Playing for time the Angels ran straight plays. However, on the second play, Bartlett was hit hard and fumbled the ball which was recovered by Will of Shelby. The clock showed 10 seconds to play as the Blues lined up for their last attempt.

DELAYED PASS

On a delayed pass play Kit Keiser started around his right end, paused and threw a beautiful pass to Killer Kane in the left end zone for the winning score.

Keiser then plunged through left tackle for the extra point to make the final score.

In the first quarter the Blues drove from their own 38 to the Marion 25 before losing the ball on a fumble. Unable to crack the Shelby line, Davis attempted to pass to Roseberry but the ball was intercepted by Laubie who swiveled 45 yards with good blocking for the first score. Hartz's attempt for the extra point was wide.

The Angels roared right back and in seven consecutive first downs smashed their way from their own 13 yard line for 87 yards to tie the score. They scored on a sleeper pass from Ivy to Roseberry. Bartlett kicked the extra point and the Angels went out in front, 7 to 6.

The Angels continued their drive in the third quarter when Ivy threw a beautiful pass to Garrison for 28 yards to put the ball on the Blues' two yard line. Ivy skirted right end to put the Angels ahead 13 to 6 as Bartlett's kick for the extra point was wide.

The Blues smashed back again with Keiser taking Bartlett's kick-off on the six yard line and tearing his way to the 25 before he was hit by the entire Marion right line Then on dazzling runs by Laubie and Kane the Blues fought their way for 75 yards and a touchdown on five successive first downs, Kane skirting right end from the four. Laubie's plunge through center for the extra point was stopped and Marion led 13 to 12.

With five minutes to go, Laubie intercepted Ivy's pass to Roseberry The Blues drove to the Marion ten where they lost the ball and Bartlett's fumble set up the winning score.

1949 Buckeye Football Sked Is Announced

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Ohio State's football team is scheduled to play only five home games in 1949 instead of the usual six.

With nine games carded, the remaining four will be played at Southern California, Wisconsin, Pittsburgh and Michigan.

One substitution was made for next season's list: Minnesota will meet Captain Jack Wilson's Buckeyes instead of Iowa.

However, after next season three more substitutions will probably go into effect. Present plans call for Southern Methodist to take over Missouri's seven-year-old spot on the Buckeye schedule, Southern Cal to step down in favor of another Pacific Coast team, and Pitt to be replaced by one of the big eastern coombos—of the big eastern combos—Army, Penn, Navy, Yale or Columbia.

The Schedule.
Sept 24—Missouri.
Oct. 1—Indiana
Oct 8—At Southern California
Oct 15—Minnesota.
Oct 22—At Wisconsin.
Oct. 29—Northwestern.
Nov 5—At Pittsburgh

Pitt Seeking Middy Coach

ANNAPOLIS, Md.—(UP)—Capt Thomas J. Hamilton admitted today he has received an offer to become athletic director at the University of Pittsburgh

Hamilton, who is now director of athletics at the Naval academy, indicated he will not make up his mind until after tomorrow's game with Army.

"No decision has been made," he said, "and right now I am thinking only in terms of beating Army"

A former Navy football star and grid coach, Hamilton became director of athletics last summer He has been mentioned as a likely successor to James (Whitey) Hagan who resigned under fire at Pittsburgh in July

In Pittsburgh, meanwhile, a usually reliable source said Hamilton's acceptance would hinge on his ability to get a release from the naval academy.

Dr. Norman C. Oschehirt, chairman of the Pittsburgh Athletic committee, acknowledged that Hamilton is "one of the men we have under consideration." But he refused to say whether the naval officer is the school's top choice for the job

Pitt football coach Mike Milligan was in Philadelphia for the Army-Navy game, but he said he had no "official meeting" scheduled with Hamilton.

Married Gridders Veto Bowl Clash

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah—(U.P.)—Marriage kept the University of Utah football team out of the Delta Bowl today.

Thirteen married members of the team voted against the New Year's day game and school officials refused to send a divided squad to Memphis to play William and Mary. The game would have meant $30,000 for the university.

Bowl Choices Withheld Pending Results Of Six Southern Grid Games Saturday

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK —(AP)— College football unfolds its most colorful spectacle — the Army-Navy game—at Philadephia tomorrow, but the bowl sponsors will be looking the other way.

They'll be focusing attention on the south which is expected to fill most of the remaining open spots in the post-season fixtures.

The present list of leading bowl eligibles includes five Dixie teams — Clemson, North Carolina, Georgia, Tulane and Mississippi—plus Oklahoma, the Big Seven champion, and Oregon, the team that California beat out for the Rose bowl bid.

Of these, all but Oregon, which has closed its schedule, will be in action on the last full Saturday of the 1948 compaign.

FIVE TEAMS SOUGHT

The Cotton bowl at Dallas is still looking for an opponent for Southern Methodist. The Sugar bowl at New Orleans and the Orange bowl at Miami must complete their entire lineup.

But even with the keen bowl interest there is no stealing the spotlight from the annual battle of service elevens at Philadelphia's Municipal stadium.

A crowd of 101,000, including President Truman is expected to watch Army bid for a perfect season against a Navy outfit that has lost all eight of its starts.

Odds-makers have established the Cadets three touchdown favorites and, on the surface, appear to have been generous to the Midshipmen at that. Army has the most powerful ground attack in the nation and a batch of statistics to prove it.

At South Bend, Notre Dame will be seeking to extend its unbeaten string to 27 games against Washington and wipe out a university record set by Knute Rockne's great 1929-30-31 teams.

Clemson, one of the five unblemished powers, will try to raise its bowl stock by beating Auburn at Mobile, Ala. Once tied North Carolina will take on Virginia at Charlottesville.

Traditional conflicts face the three Southeastern conference conference hopefuls — Tulane, Mississippi and Georgia. Each beaten once, they are striving for both the conference championship and a bowl date.

Georgia is host to Georgia Tech at Athens. Mississippi meets Mississippi State at Oxford. Tulane battles Louisiana State at Baton Rouge. Vanderbilt, which has come along fast since losing a pair of season openers, meets Tennessee in another Dixie headliner.

Oklahoma's Big Seven champions close their campaign against Oklahoma A. and M. at Stillwater.

Southern Methodist, winner of the Southwest conference title, engages Texas Christian at Dallas. Two intersectional frays find Michigan State at Santa Clara and Penn State at Tacoma against Washington State.

RED WHIPS PENN

Cornell clinched its first Ivy league title in nine years yesterday by upsetting a favored Pennsylvania team, 23 to 14, in the feature game of a lean Turkey day menu.

Led by Bob Dean, who scored one touchdown, set up another and kicked a 20-yard field goal, the Big Red outclassed the Quakers before 78,000 at Philadelphia's Franklin field.

Texas A. and M. broke a nine-game losing streak to tie Texas, 14-14, and knock the Longhorns out of a chance to share the Southwest crown.

Missouri won second place in the Big Seven standings by humbling Kansas, 21-7. Wake Forest, headed for the Dixie bowl at Birmingham, triumphed over South Carolina, 38-0.

Three of the minor bowl games were decided, West Chester (Pa.) Teachers edged Appalachian, 7-2, in the Burley bowl at Johnson City, Tenn. Illinois Wesleyan topped Illinois Teachers, 6-0, in the Corn bowl at Bloomington, Ill. College of Idaho outscored Southern Oregon, 27-20, in the Pearl bowl at Medford, Ore.

Utah captured the Bix Six crown by humbling Utah State, 41-7. Nevada and its star passer, Stan Heath, set three new collegiate offensive records in toppling Wichita, 42-12. Heath passed for two touchdowns, making his season's total an all-high 22. Nevada increased its passing touchdown total to 27 and its aerial yardage to 2,295, both new records.

Miami U. Wins League Crown

(By Associated Press)

Miami university is the 1948 Mid-American conference champion, wresting the title from defending University of Cincinnati, 43-19, in Ohio's top Thanksgiving day football clash.

Three other holiday games involving Ohio teams saw Case win, 15-7, in its first victory in 21 years over Western Reserve university; Mt. Union overpower Wooster college, 21-6, and the University of Chattanooga defeat favored University of Dayton, 21-6.

Playing at Cincinnati, the Redskins scored two touchdowns in the first four minutes. It was the 52nd time the two teams had met during their 60-year-old rivalry.
